ABOUT THE COURSE

Airlines hire on attitude and train to competency. During an airline pilot interview process, pilots need to prove to recruiters that they are the right person for the job.

The IAANZ Pilot Interview Preparation Course covers simulator sessions and ground modules which are specially designed to help pilots build the skills that airline recruiters are looking for. The instructors running the course are senior industry professionals with years of experience as airline pilots. They will provide first-hand information on what it is like to work for an airline and take you through the interview process to help you present yourself in a manner that draws the interviewers attention. The course includes technical problem solving, a simulator assessment and a personal interview. The course also includes Multi-Crew Non-Technical Skills (NTS) featuring leadership, teamwork, workload management, problem solving, decision making and threat and error management. Aspects important in flying a jet aircraft are covered prior to finishing the course with an hour-long simulator session per pilot in the Pacific Simulator EuroJet PS4.5 fixed base simulator modelled on the A320.

INTERVIEW PROCESS

The IAANZ Pilot Interview Preparation Course will give you a true taste of the interview process, will highlight airline expectations, inform on organisational structure, pilot roles and the training and assessments involved. The mock interview will be a simulation of a real airline interview, giving you the feel of what it means to be in the same room as your recruiters and at the same time building your confidence and fine tuning your presentation skills.

SIMULATOR TRAINING

The simulator session part of the course will familiarise you with an A320 flight deck. Simulations introducing you to Non Technical Skills through various procedures in a Multi-crew environment will give you the edge recruiters are looking for. Leadership, decision making and real time management of difficult circumstances will be tested and all of these are comprehensively covered in the IAANZ Pilot Interview Preparation Course.
